

Alloy Plastic Cable Tray Supplier

AI Overview

Ebo Systems and the Niedax Group are leading manufacturers of plastic alloy (GRP/FRP) cable trays, offering durable, corrosion-resistant solutions for industrial and infrastructure projects. Key Manufacturers Ebo Systems specializes in Glass Fiber Reinforced Polyester (GRP) cable trays, providing exceptional resistance to corrosive environments, extreme temperatures, and heavy loads. Their products are manufactured using continuous pultrusion and hot pressing methods, ensuring long-term durability and reliability. Ebo Systems operates globally, serving over 27 countries and catering to sectors such as energy, transportation, chemical, and water industries. Niedax Group, which includes Ebo Systems since 2010, offers a wide range of cable management systems made from steel, aluminum, PVC, and GRP, combining manufacturing with technical advice, planning, and installation services. Their solutions comply with international standards and are designed for safety, longevity, and ease of installation. Other notable manufacturers of cable trays, including plastic or composite options, include: Legrand (France): Known for the Cablofil wire mesh trays, adaptable for various applications and easy to install. Spina Group (Italy): Specializes in ladder and perforated trays suitable for heavy-duty industrial applications. Industrias Proa S.A. (Argentina): Offers corrosion-resistant cable trays for industrial and renewable energy projects. Advantages of Plastic Alloy Cable Trays Corrosion Resistance: Ideal for chemical plants, coastal areas, and outdoor installations. Lightweight: Easier handling and installation compared to metal trays. Durability: Resistant to UV, heat, and extreme weather conditions. Safety: Non-conductive properties reduce electrical hazards. Considerations When Choosing a Manufacturer Compliance with Standards: Look for EN 61537, ISO 9001, or IEC certifications. Customization Options: Ability to provide tailored sizes, load capacities, and installation methods. Global Support: Manufacturers with international presence...
