

Price of Network Cable Tray Bundling

AI Overview

Network cable tray bundling solutions range from $0.12 per accessory to $1.20 per meter for bulk cable trays, depending on type, material, and volume. Cable Tray Pricing Cable trays are used to organize and support electrical and network cables. Prices vary based on material, size, and design: Galvanized steel perforated trays: Approximately $1.20 per meter for bulk orders (1000m+) suitable for industrial projects in Hong Kong, offering basic corrosion protection and ventilation. Stainless steel trays: Slightly higher cost, ideal for harsh environments requiring corrosion resistance. Small or specialized trays: For example, 4-inch perforated trays can cost around $100 per piece, and 50x50 mm stainless steel trays are about $110 per meter. Cable Bundling Tools For organizing network cables, bundling tools like cable combs or organizers are available: Cable Comb Network Cable Organizer: Compatible with Cat5e, Cat6, and Cat6A cables, designed for professional IT setups, with durable, impact-resistant construction. Desk cable management bundles: Products like the EXTNGO CAT6 Retractable Network Cable Extender include cable trays, holders, and sleeves, providing a complete solution for under-desk cable organization. Prices for these bundles vary depending on included accessories and cable length, typically ranging from $30 to $100 per kit online. Factors Affecting Cost Material: Steel, aluminum, or fiberglass affects durability and price. Tray type: Ladder, perforated, solid-bottom, or U-shaped trays have different costs. Volume: Bulk purchases reduce per-meter cost but may require minimum order quantities. Application: Industrial, data center, or office setups may require specialized trays or fire-rated materials, influencing price. For accurate budgeting, consider both the unit price and total cost of ownership, including installation, maintenance, and compatibility with existing systems. Suppliers like Hongfeng Electric, Baozun Industry, and Fblink Corporation offer competitive options depending on project scale and requirements.
