

Price of Waterproof Distribution Box Covers

AI Overview

Waterproof distribution box protective covers typically range from $10 to $50 depending on size, material, and IP rating. Pricing Overview Amazon offers a compact ABS plastic waterproof distribution box with a transparent cover, IP65 rating, and 2-way circuit breaker design for around $15-$25. This model is suitable for indoor and outdoor use, includes mounting brackets and a DIN rail, and allows easy inspection of electrical connections. AliExpress lists IP67-rated transparent protective window covers made from flame-retardant PC material, featuring reinforced sealing strips and secure clasp mechanisms. Prices for these covers generally range from $10 to $30, depending on size and shipping options. Walmart provides various circuit breaker box covers, with prices starting at approximately $12, though the exact cost depends on the specific model and size. SinoBreaker offers IP65-IP68 waterproof distribution boxes for industrial and outdoor applications. Prices vary widely based on series (AT or HT), size, and customization, typically starting around $20-$50 for standard models. Factors Affecting Price IP Rating: Higher ratings like IP67 or IP68 provide better protection against water and dust, often increasing the cost. Material: ABS plastic is common and affordable, while polycarbonate (PC) or flame-retardant materials may be more expensive. Size and Configuration: Larger boxes or those with DIN rail options and multiple circuit breaker slots cost more. Brand and Certification: Trusted brands with safety certifications may charge a premium. Shipping and Import Fees: International purchases may include VAT, customs duties, or shipping costs, affecting the final price. Recommendations For residential or small-scale use, an IP65 ABS plastic box from Amazon or Walmart is cost-effective and reliable. For industrial or outdoor applications, consider IP67-IP68 rated boxes from AliExpress or SinoBrea...
