

Price of fiber optic cable removal tools

AI Overview

Fiber optic cable removal tools typically range from $10 for basic strippers to over $500 for comprehensive termination kits. Basic Fiber Optic Strippers Single-purpose fiber optic strippers, designed for removing jackets and coatings from 125–900 micron fibers, generally cost $10 to $50 depending on brand and precision features. Examples include tri-hole strippers for 125/250 micron fibers or spring-loaded hand strippers for small-diameter cables. Multi-Function Stripping Tools All-in-one strippers capable of handling jackets, buffers, and coatings on various fiber sizes usually range from $50 to $150. These tools often feature adjustable blades, ergonomic designs, and spring mechanisms to reduce hand fatigue. Fiber Optic Termination and Field Kits Comprehensive kits for field or lab use, which include jacket strippers, shears, scribes, polishing tools, and other accessories, can cost $200 to $500 or more. These kits are designed for professional technicians performing splicing, termination, and testing, providing all necessary tools in a single carry case. Where to Buy trueCABLE offers precision fiber optic strippers and multi-purpose tools with a focus on durability and warranty support. Amazon provides a wide range of fiber optic tools with varying prices and customer reviews. Cable Monkey (UK) and Glenair supply specialized kits and accessories for both field and lab applications. Jonard Tools manufactures premium fiber optic strippers and multi-function tools, often backed by lifetime guarantees. Summary Basic strippers: $10–$50 Multi-function strippers: $50–$150 Professional termination kits: $200–$500+ Investing in high-quality tools ensures precision, durability, and safety when handling delicate fiber optic cables, which is critical for maintaining signal integrity and avoiding costly damage.
