

Swedish Zinc-Aluminum-Magnesium Cable Tray Manufacturer

AI Overview

Wibe Group is a leading Swedish manufacturer offering robust cable trays, including options with advanced corrosion-resistant coatings suitable for industrial and commercial applications. Manufacturer Overview Wibe Group, headquartered in Sweden, specializes in cable support systems including cable ladders, cable trays, mesh trays, and wall trunking. Their products are designed for both horizontal and vertical installations, providing flexibility for commercial buildings, industrial facilities, data centers, and offshore applications. Wibe Group brands include Wibe, Defem, Stago, and Mita, offering a wide range of cable management solutions. ZM/ZAM Cable Tray Technology Zinc-Aluminum-Magnesium (ZAM or ZM) coatings are applied to steel substrates to enhance corrosion resistance. This metallic coating combines zinc, aluminum, and magnesium, forming a dense protective film that shields the entire product, including cut edges, scratches, and perforations. Key advantages include: Exceptional corrosion protection: Self-healing coating withstands harsh environments (C4/C5, coastal or industrial) with a service life exceeding 20 years. High strength and durability: Load capacities ≥ 500 kg/m, suitable for heavy-duty installations. Environmental and logistical benefits: ZM coating is applied at the steel mill, reducing carbon footprint, lead times, and transport costs compared to traditional galvanizing. Versatility: Compatible with ladder-type, tray-type, and channel-type systems, and can be powder-coated or combined with organic coatings for additional protection. Applications ZM/ZAM cable trays are ideal for: Industrial and chemical plants Coastal and offshore platforms Data centers and power substations Renewable energy installations Infrastructure projects requiring long-life, corrosion-resistant solutions Ordering and Standards Wibe Group's cable trays are m...
